

Make Scented Play Dough

Here's a quick trick to put a fresh spin on an all-time kid favorite. Add in a packet of Kool-Aid powder and your play dough will smell like cherries, grapes, oranges, or strawberries!

What You Need:

- 1 mixing spoon
- 1 pack Kool-Aid powder
- 3 cups all-purpose flour
- 3 tablespoons vegetable oil
- 2 tablespoons cream of tartar 3 cups water

What You Do:

1. Pick a flavor of Kool-Aid mix.
2. Measure and mix all the ingredients, and put them into the bowl. If you want to add some color to the dough, squeeze in a few drops of food dye and mix it in well.
3. Pour the mixture into the pan over very low heat.
4. Stir until the mixture is no longer sticky, and then remove it immediately.
5. Let it cool, and then play! You'll have hours of fun shaping and molding the sweet-smelling play dough. When you're finished playing with it, store it in a large plastic zip-lock bag. Experiment with different scents for a never-ending fun time!
